Ensure that no one in a 10 mile radius around the temple goes hungry

- Srila Prabhupada's instruction to ensure that no one goes hungry within a 10-mile radius of the temple is a powerful reminder of how spiritual and material well-being go hand in hand. His Divine Grace wanted prasadam to be freely available so that every soul, regardless of background, could be nourished.

Ensure that no one in a 10 mile radius around the temple goes hungry

- It is Guru Maharaja's desire that everyone who visits Mayapur temple should get some sort of dona prasad. And also Mayapur there be availability of full plate free prasad 3 times a day.
- So devotees and visitors can be encouraged to donate for such a good cause.

Prasad distribution in Guru Maharaj's zones

- Under the guidance of HH Jayapataka Swami, who serves as the GBC for various temples and centers, the secretariat is actively gathering details on prasadam distribution efforts. This includes free prasadam served through the Food for Life program, as well as paid prasadam available through Maha Prasadam counters and Govinda's restaurants operated by temples. Additionally, the secretariat is also tracking details of midday meal distribution programs in these areas, ensuring a comprehensive understanding of prasadam outreach.

Prasad distribution in Guru Maharaj's zones

- A dedicated team of volunteers is working to compile and share these reports, inspiring more participation. Where a Food for Life program does not yet exist, efforts are being made to encourage temples to start one. Devotees and disciples can contribute by assisting the secretariat in gathering and organizing information, creating media and presentations for awareness, volunteering in local Food for Life programs, and reporting on their prasadam distribution efforts. Financial contributions are also welcome—whether for direct prasadam distribution or for setting up infrastructure for cooking and serving.

Prasad distribution in Guru Maharaj's zones

- Beyond the temples in HH Jayapataka Swami's GBC zone, many other disciples and devotees worldwide are also enthusiastically distributing prasadam and reporting their distribution count. Every effort, big or small, helps fulfill Srila Prabhupada's vision of a spiritually and physically nourished world.
